Situation

Positioned towards the eastern edge of the sought-after village of Greatford, Meadow View enjoys an attractive setting within a thriving rural community. The village is home to the historic parish church, while the neighbouring village of Uffington, just a short drive away, offers the well-regarded Bertie Arms, providing further choice for dining and socialising.

Greatford is ideally situated between the bustling market town of Market Deeping to the east and the historic Georgian town of Stamford to the west. Both towns provide an excellent range of retail, commercial and everyday amenities, with Stamford particularly celebrated for its exceptional architectural heritage, charming streetscapes, boutique shopping, cafés, restaurants and hotels. The town also hosts its established weekly Friday Market alongside a popular fortnightly Farmers' Market.

The village is exceptionally well connected, with the A1 lying just to the west, providing convenient access both north and south, together with links to the A14, A47 and wider motorway network. Nearby Peterborough offers extensive shopping and leisure facilities, together with mainline rail services providing high-speed connections to London King's Cross. The area is particularly well regarded for its excellent educational provision, with a superb choice of respected state and independent schools in Stamford, Oakham, Uppingham and Bourne, together with the renowned Witham Hall Preparatory School, situated approximately five miles to the north.

A wide range of leisure opportunities are available nearby, including golf at Toft, Burghley Park, Luffenham Heath and Greetham Valley Golf Clubs. Rutland Water, approximately seven miles to the west, provides an exceptional setting for sailing, fishing, cycling, birdwatching and enjoying the surrounding countryside.
